Issue 35

Hello from everyone at The Good Newsletter production team, we hope that you are keeping well and safe! Enjoy this week's issue! Remember, if you want to get involved by sending us any content that you would like to share with our community, email us at mosclibrary@gmail.com.

Flaming June is over, so we're in high summer with ISSUE 35. The cricket season has begun and tennis at Wimbledon will bring competitors from all over the world; not forgetting the Football Euros of course! So Mary's poem is a timely reminder that plants don't recognise borders, they just grow where they're happiest.

We hope you enjoy our usual puzzles and some book reviews, plus Newsbites.

Love getting up at the crack of dawn?

This is the weekend to get out onto Hurst Spit and watch the 90th Anniversary Round the Island Race as the yachts jostle in the waters between the Island and Keyhaven. This amazing spectacle is on Saturday 3rd July –and groups of boats pass the Needles any time between 9.30 – 12 noon. The larger yachts start first to avoid 'glugs' when passing between Hurst Castle and the Needles, so if you want to see these you need to arrive earlier.

We thought you might enjoy this 'very large yacht' picture from 2019!

POETRY CORNER

Bluebells

All around English woodlands,
There dwells a flower, blue,
Of gentle, nodding beauty,
Who will say "hello to you.

Just outside the woodlands,
And in many gardens too,
There dwells another bluebell,
Who will say "Ole" to you.

And North of the Border,
Are blue bell flowers too,
The dainty pale blue Harebells,
Will say "och aye the noo.2

So English and Spanish bluebells,
And the Harebells too,
Who are the Scottish bluebells,
Will say, "hello", "Ole" and "Och aye the noo."

What's in a name you might well ask,
For they are all bells of blue,
Their beauty we can all enjoy,
In whatever language they speak to you.

Mary Wheatley

The Blackbird

*His notes come through the apple-tree
Flowing with a leisurely
Cool and suave limpidity;*

*Deliberately they glide and swing.
As if he had not only Spring
But centuries in which to sing.*

*He'll pause between each tune as though
Knowing so many made him slow
To choose which next shall shine and flow.*

*And the golden globes, the dancing spots
Of light through leaves' opaquer blots,
Seem the bodies of those golden notes.*

Well done Milford Tennis Club

Hosting a Covid secure Open LTA Seniors Tennis Tournament was never going to be easy, so TGN applauds the organising committee and sponsors for making it possible! Over 100 players from 45 to 70+ recently enjoyed some closely fought matches in this interesting competition.

Congratulations!

news bites This week's positive stories from MoS and beyond!

A big THANK YOU to everyone at South Lawn Hotel for the amazing service you have provided to people during three lockdowns: from Daily Dairy and Fresh Bakery, to Celebration Cakes and Cream Teas, not to mention the delicious Takeaway Meals Menu, Pop Up Burger bars, Lymington Strawberries and food with music.

As you revert to your core business, TGN wishes you every success in the future. Stay well, stay safe and keep pouring out your love into our community.

Maybe time for a dip in the sea, as the water warms up a little more?

Change one letter at a time (but not the position of any letter) to make a new word moving from top to bottom.

This is the fourth volume of memoirs.....Finally home from London after his wartime service with the RAF, James Herriot is settling back into life as a country vet. Whilst the world has changed after the war, the blunt Yorkshire clients and menagerie of beasts with weird and wonderful ailments remain the same. Darrowby is far from quiet. Herriot's young son trails around after his father and with another baby due, life is about to become more chaotic.

"Charming, heart-warming and laugh out loud funny"

Kate Humble.

An informative and entertaining book with wonderful stories of fruit from the past and present. Good graphics assist tree choice, there's a lovely section on exotic fruits and a piece on how to grow your own dessert grapes. Also tips on how to grow many varieties in a small garden!

Life in the country and all things natural

Many thanks to reader Terry Langford for the following review:

"If I dare suggest a book based on history and fact.... For western readers (not about gunslingers) get hold of "Lonesome Dove" a very long, but fascinating read. The occasional violence is sometimes too real, but as it was at the time. The story of lives in that region during the mid-late 19th century cattle drives is awe-inspiring. Makes our age seem very soft and cushy."

How many words can you make from the word circle?

4 letters or more, including the centre letter? No plurals, no past tenses, no adverbs ending in -ly and no foreign words unless they are in the English dictionary! Each word circle will generate some different words because the middle letter is different. The long word is always the same.
